Home Agent's Notes . . . . . —

Scrapbooks will be on display and the winning club will be presented a lovely silver bowl, made available by Mrs. F. F. Carr. Scrapbooks feature work done on federation goal, citizenship, and international understanding.

Members are invited to bring any articles from foreign countries for display.

Lunch may be secured at the school cafeteria and will be served at 1 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend.

November Home Demonstration Club meetings will feature foreign cookery for demonstrations.

Each country is known by its language, its dress and its typical foods. Here in America we have taken the food customs of the many lands from whence our ancestors came.

No tongue is sufficiently educated to speak all languages, nor is any palate educated to appreciate the delicacies of every country in their native form, but to be truly international - minded we must be willing to try new foods as well as to understand the best in the people, the food, the customs of other countries. As the Song of Peace says, "But other lands have sunlight too, the clovers, and skies are everywhere as blue as mine."

Good food, is to each person, the food they have grown to enjoy and are accustomed too. The child is fortunate who is given the chance to enjoy a wide variety of foods and flavors, so he learns to "like" most foods.

Here are a few of the recipes the clubs may feature:

Spanish Rice

(Mrs. L. C. McKenzie's recipe)
1 cup rice
4 tbsp fat
5 medium onions chopped
2 cups strained tomatoes
2 cloves of garlic
1 red or green pepper chopped
(1 canned pimiento or 1 tbsp. paprika may be substituted for the pepper if you desire.)
2 tsps. salt.

Wash rice first and place in frying pan with bacon or poultry fat, onion and garlic minced fine. Fry for 10 minutes. Add rest of ingredients and one cup of water. Cook slowly together about one hour. As water evaporates add more to keep rice from burning until it has become tender. Serves from 4—6.

French Onion Soup

4 medium onions
1 tbsp. butter
1 qt. brown stock
(concentrated or bouillon cubes).
1-2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper
Rounds of toast
Grated Parmesan cheese

Slice onions thin and brown in butter. Add broth, sauce, salt and pepper, and simmer until onions are tender. Pour soup into a casserole. Arrange toast on top of soup, sprinkle with grated cheese, and place under broiler until the cheese melts and browns. Serve 4. Rub casserole or toast with cut clove of garlic.

Japanese Rice

Wash rice in a sieve under running water shaking until the water runs clear. Then put in a heavy kettle having a heavy lid that fits tightly and cook without stirring over a low flame for 25 min., using 2 cupfuls of cold water to 1 cupful of rice. The rice grains will stand out alone, tender, light and flaky.

Mexican Spaghetti

(Mrs. L. C. McKenzie's recipe)
1-2 lb. spaghetti
1-2 lb. bacon, diced
1 1-2 lbs. chopped beef
2 green peppers, cut
2 tbsp. cut parsley
1-2 can kidney beans
1-2 can English peas
1-2 can tomatoes
1-2 lb. cheese cut fine
1 can mushrooms
Salt and pepper

Boil spaghetti, fry bacon and onions until golden brown. Remove from pan and brown beef. When beef is browned, add bacon, onions and vegetables to meat. (You may omit peas and beans). Simmer all ingredients together for a short while. Place layer of spaghetti and layer of meat and vegetable mixture in large baking dish, repeating process until dish is full. Be sure to have layer of spaghetti on top, however. Sprinkle with cheese and bake two hours in slow oven. Serves 15 people.

Russian Tea

1 qt. Orange juice (fresh oranges are best)
1 pt. pineapple juice
2 lemons (put in juice and rind) can use more
1 qt. water (can use more).
1 1-2 cups of sugar
1 or 2 tea bags in boiling water (tea)
2 t. mixed spices (take out red pepper).

Put juices, lemons, sugar and water into kettle to heat (do not boil). Pour into this mixture the tea and water from mixed spices that have simmered (not boiled) for twenty minutes or more. Let all mixtures simmer for about twenty or thirty minutes. It is then ready to serve.

This amount will make twenty to twenty-five tea-cups.

Dr. Thompson, Dr. Potts Spoke At P.-T.A. Meeting Monday

Dr. M. Weldon Thompson, professor of Education and Sociology at Lynchburg College and who has done outstanding work in the educational field both on a state and national level, was the first guest speaker appearing on the Appomattox High School P.-T. A. program Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium. Dr. Thompson was introduced by Howard E. Kerr, principal of the school.

In his preliminary remarks, Dr. Thompson said that he was tremendously impressed by the programs to be presented each month during the current school year at the local P.-T. A. meetings, all relative to Better School - Community Relations. Folders outlining each of the nine programs were presented to those attending this meeting.

"Education is an attempt to control the thinking and conduct of people in such a way that the persons who do the thinking and actions are seeking a reason for so doing," said the speaker. He said further that this education comes through the home, the church, the school and community agencies and activities, but the home is recognized as being the number one educational agency. When the child of six years enters school, his or her standards, attitudes, manners, physical skill and an amazing amount of knowledge have already been injected as a result of the home training.

"If education is to be functional and produce desirable citizens, these four agencies must work closely together to create a home-community relationship," said Dr. Thompson in his closing remarks.

Dr. John G. Potts, of Lynchburg, a member of the Bedford County School Board and chairman of the Finance Committee of the Virginia School Board Association, was presented by T. DeWitt Evans, the chairman of the Appomattox County School Board.

"Whenever I come here, I feel that I am treading on hallowed ground, as Appomattox represents one of the few landmarks dedicated by, for and with the peoples' consent to a Lost Cause, and although lost, we have seen fit to dedicate a National Park to this Cause," said Dr. Potts. He said although the cause was lost, the ideals remain. He cuolgized the illustrious General Robert E. Lee who led us in our rehabilitation, and believes him to be responsible for what the country is today, brought about by his Christian character, fair thinking, and good judgment.

Dr. Potts subject was the School Board - Community Relations. He stated the procedure of the appointment of school board members and their duties. He elaborated on the problems confronting the boards in dealing with finances, and expressed himself as being strongly in favor of a substantial increase in teachers' salaries.

He declared that a smaller percentage today is spent for education than 20 years ago, in spite of the fact that there is a greater job to do. He urged the citizen's loyal support of the school board when the anual budget is set up.

Jack Couch, P.-T. A. president, presided at the meeting.

Preceding the meetings, Mrs. L. L. Stanley, chairman of the program commitee, entertained at a "kick-off" dinner complimenting the out-of-town guests.

Girl Scouts To Meet Wed.

Girl Scout Troop 41 is meeting every Wednesday afternoon in the Appomattox Elementary School and they have big plans for the year. At the October 19 meeting, Miss Rosa Mae Wooldridge was guest speaker. After a brief business meeting, Miss Wooldridge demonstrated many phases of Good Grooming. This meeting was most helpful to the Girl Scouts in earning the "Good Grooming" badge. Also, while a guest of the Scouts, Miss Wooldridge made pins, earrings and decorated perfume bottles with shells, showing the group how it was done, step by step. At the next meeting, the Scouts will continue this handwork and make the articles by themselves.

On Nov. 2, Troop 41 will have a hike and climax their hike with a campfire and cook-out. This year the Girl Scouts have one new member, Barbara Carter.

IT'S AUTUMN

Alas! The time has come when
God's creation of beauty, flowers,
Are packing away their petals, and preparing for the long restful hours.
When the summer's sun has ceased to scorch
Each tree, blazing forth with its brilliant torch,
Pink, and red, bronze and golden yellow,
Even on some trees, hang apples sweet and mellow;
The pumpkins with their bright and plum pie-faces,
Lie along the corn rows, found in various places.
Soon, Jack Frost will come creeping over the meadows green,
Changing all the beauty of this picturesque scene.
It's Autumn we say, days are shorter, and nights are cool,
And all of our jolly boys and girls must be off to school;
Since our home-makers and statesmen of tomorrow,
Must obtain the knowledge they cannot borrow.
They, like the leaves of the autumn days,
Must settle down, to find the proof of truth, for future ways.

A. H. S. Plays At Bedford Friday Night

After giving its best performance of the season in the homecoming football game with Brookville H. S. here last Friday night, the Appomattox Blue Hornets will go to Bedford Friday night to take on the Bedford Otters.

Appomattox and Bedford are traditional football rivals, but are now in different league districts, so the Friday tilt will not affect the chances of the Hornets for league championship.

Appomattox downed Brookville 26 to 0, with an excellent display of strength. Alton Smith starred in the game, attended by some 400 fans. Smith tallied three times with the best offensive show of the A. H. S. team this year. Jack Caldwell made the fourth touchdown in the final quarter. Tommie O'Brien was a tower of strength on defense.

Coach Bragg has drilled the local squad this week with the aim of making a good showing Friday at Bedford.

Entertained In Honor of Miss Nellwyn O'Brien

Mrs. Walker Covington, Mrs. Howard Gilbert and Mrs. William O'Brien entertained in the home of Mrs. Covington Saturday evening, October 22, with a miscellaneous shower, honoring Miss Nellwyn O'Brien, bride-elect, whose marriage to Mr. James Allen Smith is set for Saturday, October 29.

After a social hour of games and contests, the honoree was presented with many beautiful and useful gifts. Later the guests were invited in the dining room, where refreshments were served. Mrs. J. H. O'Brien presided at the punch bowl.

Those present for the occasion in addition to the hostesses included Miss O'Brien, Mesdames J. H. O'Brien, Robert Morris, Kyle Coleman, Leo Quinn, Berkley Ferguson, Robert Traylor, Richard Carter, Evrod Conner, John Guntter and R. W. Stanley.
